

SafeCom Mobile Print

Convenient printing on-the-go

Mobile devices are rapidly changing the norms determining where, when, and how we do our jobs. The ability to communicate, both with each other and with other devices, now conveniently rests in our pockets as we move from place to place - and anywhere our work takes us.

Printing remains an essential part of business, and there are advantages to be gained by including it in our mobile workflows. Yet for professional purposes, printing must remain both efficient and secure. Now you can combine the freedom and flexibility of mobile printing with the security and convenience of Safecom Pull Print and user-authentication.

Ultimate printing freedom

Submit your print jobs from anywhere using your mobile device. You can be on the road, on your way to the office, or in another part of the building. Then, simply collect your prints at the most convenient place and time.

- Print from any mobile device - smartphones, tablet PCs and laptops.
- Only requirement is an internet connection - no need to be on the corporate LAN.
- To print, send an email with attachments, upload files through a web browser, or submit a web address.
- Retrieve your prints at the printer that best fits your need - on the way to the next meeting, before the next lecture, or in the remote office you are visiting.
